How we get to your price.

Why we scope first

Every office has its own workflows and systems. Scoping first means your price fits the agents you plan to build. Your written quote shows what is included before you decide.

What we scope together

- The workflows you want to turn into agents
- Which systems each workflow touches
- What your team builds and what our team builds with you
- Where it runs and your timeline

What you get

- Simpler agents your team builds with drag and drop, no code
- Deeper integrations our team builds with you
- Agents that run where your staff already work
- Campus data never trains models

Your path to a written quote

1. Tell us about your office. Share your goals and systems on the pricing form.
2. Map one workflow. A short call to walk through it step by step.
3. Get your written quote. Priced to what you build and what we build with you.
4. Build your first agent. Together, then add more when you're ready.
